

Brown's Labradoodles Reservation Process

In order to reserve a pup, you must first submit an application. You can visit our website to choose the litter that best fits your families wants: <https://www.brownslabradoodles.com/>

After your application has been approved, you will receive a link to place a $400 non-refundable deposit in order to reserve a pup.

Once your deposit has been placed, you will receive an email confirming your litter choice, your place in line to choose a pup, and a receipt for your deposit.

This is how reservations work:

For each medium litter we will take 6 reservations, and for each mini litter, we will take 4 reservations (minis tend to have fewer pups). All reservations will be non-gender specific. Once we receive the max number of reservations for a litter, that litter will be closed for reservations until the litter is born.

Once the litter is born, if there are more than 6 (or 4) puppies in the litter, we will open the remaining reservations.

Choosing order:

When it comes time to choose the pups at week 6, all reservations will choose in order of deposit date.

Note: Brown's Labradoodles LLC reserves the right to choose up to 2 puppies from any litter which could reduce the number of available pups in a litter.

If the puppies are born and there are not enough puppies to fulfill your reservation, you can choose to place your reservation on another litter that has available spots OR if that specific dam and sire are what you want, you can be placed as an early reservation for a future litter from those two parent dogs (as long as there are plans to breed those two parents in the future).

Any reservations taken after the puppies are born will be placed in order of deposit.

Please understand we never know how many of any certain gender, color, coat texture, or personality we're going to get, but we will do the best we can to match you with the pet that is best for your family.
